I sought velief among the medical profession and found none. Triends urged ne to try Dr. Plerce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninetv-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. its practical recommendations. The General Assembly will be wise if it meets those snggestions in earnest good faith and seeks to take the steps forward recommended in nearly every

The appropriations for a new Capitol and for the St. Louis Exposition are argently demanded by intelligent public opinion all over the state. In the latter case private effort has already accomplished much, but there is a great deal that the state only can and should do. It was due to Kentucky that freedom of the Mississippi was gained for Western commerce. and thus paved the way for the Louisiana Purchase. By all means Kentucky should be adequately represented at St. Louis.

As to a new Capitol, it is a necessity that is rapidly growing to be a sore spot on the state's pride. With plenty of funds on hand to build it, there can be no excuse if the Assembly should fail to meet the demands of the time. It is to be hoped that provision will be made to preserve and restore the old Capitol and convert it into a state museum or library. It is a historical relic of enduring interest, but as a Statehouse it is a disgrace and atterly inadequate. It is time for Kentneky to set the seal of permanence on Frankfort and provide a fitting home for the state's dignity.

The recommendation for a school-book law will be agreed to by all sides. Uniform books at minimum prices will save many thousands of dollars to people who can least afford to pay for frequent changes at the highest prices. It is not to be denied, however, that there are opportunities for graft in the forming of a law that should be carefully guarded against.

Governor Beckney has unquestionably accepted wise advice or initiated excellent views when he arges reform in the laws governing expenditures for the care of pauper idiots and criminal prosecutions. The abuses that have existed under both departments of expense are many and costly. In three years the cost of maintaining panper idiots at their homes has increased from $123,000 to $156,000 per anmmn, while criminal prosecutions paid for by the state are one of the heaviest drains on the Treasury. The Governor suggests that in every case the county be made to bear its share of both expenses, for the obvious reason that it will throw more safeguards around claims made under each head. Kentneky cannot too soon make a start to place responsibility directly upon the counties. It will encourage better county government, and will be the first step in making counties preserve better order at their own expense by feeling the necessity of limiting their expenditures. As it is now, the burden is thrown on the state with an easy conscience, and it is nobody's business to check

When you feel your feet so comfortably clad, and realize how heavy your purse still is, you will feel new "swap" and "go," heart lighter. head clearer and in your heart only pity for the "other fellow," who is still shambling around in his old shoes, with his head down and his courage at an ebb-proportionately low. Do your best to make it so, and let us help you, and the New Year Will Be Happy.
